

Website Issues

Our donation website and sponsorship portal are currently experiencing some technical problems. We're aware of the issue, and working hard to get things working properly as soon as possible.

If you experience problems making a donation or with anything else on our website, please email matt@forgottenchildren.org and we will followup as soon as possible.